c. Preparation for Military Operations & Administration – Tactics & Administration

- ✓ Objectives of Each Subject

- Operation of War: Understand principles of war, levels of warfare (strategic, operational, tactical), and campaign planning.

- Basic Tactics (Patrolling, Raid, Ambush): Test ability to plan, execute, and analyze small-unit operations.

- Basic Arms (Infantry, Armor, Artillery, Air Defence, Engineer, Signal, Special Forces): Assess knowledge of roles, capabilities, and integration of different arms in combined operations.

- Mountain & Jungle Warfare: Evaluate adaptability in difficult terrain, survival, and specialized tactics.

- Counter Insurgency Operations: Test understanding of insurgency dynamics, population-centric operations, and civil-military coordination.

- Fighting in Built-up Area: Assess urban warfare tactics, coordination, and minimizing collateral damage.

- Peacekeeping Operations: Gauge knowledge of UN mandates, rules of engagement, and cultural sensitivity.

- Intelligence & Security: Test ability to gather, analyze, and protect information.

- Administration in War & Peace: Assess logistics, personnel management, and resource allocation.

- Training: Evaluate methods of preparing troops, drills, and doctrine adherence.

- Leadership & Man Management: Test leadership principles, motivation, discipline, and crisis management.

- Organization of Nepali Army: Assess structural knowledge, hierarchy, and command responsibilities.

- Military Act, Laws, & Regulations: Test legal framework, military justice, and discipline enforcement.

- Logistic System in Nepali Army: Evaluate supply chain, transport, maintenance, and sustainability in operations.

✓ Preparation Methodology

- Structured Reading: Use official Nepali Army publications, doctrine manuals, and UN peacekeeping handbooks.

- Maps & Diagrams: Practice sketching tactical scenarios (patrol routes, ambush layouts, logistics chains).

- Mock Exercises: Simulate tactical problems and write solutions under time constraints.

- Group Discussions: Debate scenarios with peers to sharpen analytical thinking.

- Legal & Administrative Review: Summarize key military laws and regulations in your own words for quick recall.

- Leadership Practice: Reflect on personal experiences and apply leadership principles to hypothetical situations.

- Daily Revision Routine: Allocate time per subject, rotating between operational, tactical, and administrative topics.

- Past Papers & Question Banks: Practice answering in exam format — concise, structured, and doctrinally correct.

✓ Key Strategy

Think of preparation in three layers:

- Conceptual Understanding — grasp doctrines and principles.
- Application — practice tactical problems and case studies.
- Expression — train to write clear, structured, military-style answers.

4. Contemporary Affairs-Current Affairs

a. The following subjects are covered:

- National Events- 40%
- Regional Events- 30%
- International Events-20%
- Military Technology-10%

b. Preparation Methods

Daily Updates

- Read national newspapers (The Kathmandu Post, Gorkhapatra) and international sources (BBC, Al Jazeera, The Hindu).

- Follow Nepali Army press releases and UN peacekeeping updates.

- Use monthly current affairs magazines tailored for defence exams (NDI, KGS) for concise summaries.

Structured Note-Making

- Maintain a Current Affairs Notebook divided into sections:

- National Security & Defence
- Regional Affairs (South Asia, China, India)
- Global Affairs (UN, NATO, conflicts)
- Economy & Technology (defence industry, cyber security)
- Use bullet points and timelines for clarity.

Weekly Revision

- Every weekend, revise the week's notes.
- Practice one-liner Q&A style summaries for quick recall.

Link to Military Context

- Always ask: "How does this affect Nepal's security, defence policy, or peacekeeping role?"
- Example: A UN resolution → implications for Nepali peacekeepers.

d. Question Answering Techniques

For Objective

- Focus on dates, names, places, and events.
- Practice one-liner formats (e.g., "COP29 will be held in Baku, Azerbaijan, 2024").

For Short Notes

- Introduction: Define the event/topic.
- Body: Key facts, figures, implications.

- Conclusion: Military/security relevance.

For Analytical/Essay Questions

- Use PEEL method (Point, Evidence, Explanation, Link).
- Example: "Discuss the impact of Indo-Nepal relations on Nepal's defence strategy."
- Point: Current state of relations.
- Evidence: Recent treaties, military exchanges.
- Explanation: Strategic implications.
- Link: How it shapes Nepal's defence posture.

e. Key Strategy

- Balance breadth and depth: Cover wide topics but focus deeply on defence/security relevance.
- Practice writing under time pressure: 15–20 minutes per essay.
- Stay updated until exam day: Last-minute events can appear in questions.

5. Military History & Strategic Thoughts-Military History

a. Objectives

- Military History
- Understand key battles, campaigns, and wars (global and Nepali context).
- Learn lessons from past conflicts and their relevance to modern operations.
- Recognize the evolution of warfare (from ancient to modern).

- Strategic Thoughts

- Grasp contributions of major military thinkers (Clausewitz, Jomini, Prithivi Narayan Shah, Foeld Marshall Slim).

- Apply strategic principles to contemporary military and geopolitical challenges.

- Assess how strategy influences national defence policy and operational planning.

b. Preparation Methods

Thematic Study

- Divide history into eras: Ancient, Medieval, Modern, Contemporary.

- Focus on Nepali military history (Anglo-Nepal War, Gurkha campaigns, UN peacekeeping).

- Study global turning points (World Wars, Cold War, modern insurgencies).

Strategic Thinkers

- Summarize each thinker's core ideas in one-page notes.

- Napolean → deception, adaptability.

- Clausewitz → "War is continuation of politics."

- Slim→ Relentless offensive

- Compare their relevance to Nepal's context.

Case Studies

- Analyze battles and campaigns: causes, conduct, consequences, lessons.

- Example: Battle of Kirtipur → courage, defensive tactics, terrain use.

Note-Making

- Use timelines, maps, and flowcharts to visualize campaigns.
- Create flashcards for key dates, treaties, and strategic principles.

Practice Essays

- Write short essays linking history to strategy.
- Example: "How did the Anglo-Nepal War shape Nepal's military tradition?"

c. Question Answering Techniques

For Military History Questions

✓ Structure:

1. Introduction: Context of the event.
2. Body: Causes, conduct, outcome.
3. Conclusion: Lessons learned, relevance today.

✓ Tips:

- Use dates, names, and places precisely.
- Add maps/sketches if appropriate.
- Highlight lessons for modern military practice.

For Strategic Thought Questions

- ✓ Structure:
  - Introduction: Brief on the thinker or concept.
  - Body: Key principles, examples of application.
  - Conclusion: Relevance to Nepali Army or modern warfare.

d Tips:

- Quote famous lines (e.g., Clausewitz's dictum).
- Compare thinkers when asked (e.g., Sun Tzu vs Clausewitz).
- Always link theory to practice.

e. Key Strategy

- Balance factual recall (dates, battles, thinkers) with analytical insight (lessons, relevance).
- Practice writing concise, structured essays within 20 minutes.
- Use Nepali military examples to stand out in answers.

6. Armed Conflicts – Military Appreciation & Plans

a. Objectives

- Military Appreciation:
  - Assess ability to analyze a tactical/operational situation systematically.
  - Demonstrate logical reasoning in evaluating enemy, terrain, own forces, and courses of action.
  - Show clarity in decision-making and planning.
- Military Plans:
  - Translate appreciation into a practical, executable plan.

- Ensure plans are doctrinally sound, feasible, and aligned with mission objectives.
- Highlight coordination of arms, logistics, and administration.

b. Preparation Methods

Study Doctrine

- Review Nepali Army field manuals on appreciation and planning.
- Understand the steps of appreciation: Aim → Factors → Courses of Action → Comparison → Decision.

Practice Tactical Problems

- Solve daily appreciation exercises (e.g., Bn attack/ defense).
- Use maps and sketches to visualize deployments.

Note-Making

- Create templates for appreciation (Situation, Mission, Enemy, Own Forces, Terrain, Courses of Action).
- Prepare flowcharts for planning steps.

Mock Exercises

Write appreciation and plans under time constraints.

- Practice clarity and brevity in military writing style.

c Question Answering Techniques

For Appreciation Questions

- Structured Format:
    1. Aim/Mission: State clearly.

2. Factors: Enemy, own forces, terrain, time, logistics.
3. Courses of Action (COA): Present 2–3 feasible options.
4. Comparison: Weigh pros and cons of each COA.
5. Decision: Select best COA and justify.

- Tips:
  1. Use bullet points for clarity.
  2. Include sketches/maps.
  3. Keep reasoning logical and doctrinally correct.

d. Key Strategy

- Practice one appreciation per month.
- Use maps, sketches, and flowcharts to reinforce memory.
- Focus on clarity, brevity, and logical flow.
- Always link appreciation to the final plan — showing continuity of thought.

7. Lecturette

a. Objectives of Lecturette

- Assess your ability to speak clearly and confidently on a given topic.
- Test knowledge, organization, and logical flow of ideas.
- Evaluate communication skills, body language, and audience engagement.
- Demonstrate ability to summarize complex subjects concisely within limited time.

b. Preparation Methodology

✓ Topic Familiarization

- Prepare on common military, strategic, and contemporary topics (e.g., leadership, logistics, peacekeeping, current affairs).
- Maintain short notes with key points for quick recall.

c Structure Development

- Use the 3-part structure:

  ✓ Introduction – Define the topic, set context.
  ✓ Body – Present 2–3 main points with examples.
  ✓ Conclusion – Summarize and give a clear takeaway.

d. Time Management

- Lecturettes are usually 10-15 minutes.
- Practice delivering within time, avoiding over-explanation.

e Writing Notes

- Prepare a cue card with keywords (not full sentences).
- Avoid memorization; focus on logical flow.

f Practice

- Record yourself speaking and review clarity, pace, and confidence.
- Practice in front of peers for feedback.
- Simulate exam conditions: pick a random topic and speak for 3 minutes.

g Answering / Presentation Techniques

Introduction

- Start with a definition, quote, or question to capture attention.
- Example: "Leadership is the art of influencing men in battle. Today, I will discuss its importance in military success."

Body

- Present 2–3 strong points with supporting examples.

- Use military context (Nepali Army, UN missions, historical battles).
- Keep sentences short and impactful.

Conclusion

- Summarize key points.
- End with a strong statement or lesson.
- Example: "Thus, leadership remains the decisive factor that transforms plans into victory."

h Key Strategy

- Clarity over complexity: Simple, structured delivery is more effective than overloaded detail.
- Confidence & posture: Stand straight, maintain eye contact, use hand gestures naturally.
- Voice modulation: Stress key words, avoid monotone.
- Engagement: Speak as if addressing officers, not reading a script.

7. Exam Format

- Question Types: Multiple-choice, short-answer, and essay-based questions.
- Duration: Approximately 3 hours per written paper.
- Answering Methods: Structured responses with emphasis on clarity, logic, and military reasoning.
- Grading Criteria: Accuracy, depth of analysis, clarity of expression, and ability to apply military concepts.

8 Study Plans

a. Timetable Templates

Downloadable templates will be provided to help officers organize study schedules, balancing individual study and guided sessions.
